“TARGET is like a puzzle; and every time we met it was like adding a new piece,” is how Lucretia* describes the weekly sessions she did with her mom Abigail.

They keep the poster with the 7 FREEDOM steps taped to the refrigerator as a reminder. The plan is to keep their “talk times” going, even after completing the sessions with Liz, their TARGET coach.

“This has done wonders for our relationship. I learned that I can communicate better. Where before I would have hollered, now I can stay calm,” Abigail said.

With the TARGET activities and games, she came to realize that kids go through stress too. Together, the TARGET sessions became a relaxing time they carved out...just for them.

Lucretia likes that now she doesn’t jump to conclusions when one of her “alarms” goes off. “I don’t have to react,” she said. “Things are so much smoother now.”

TARGET (Trauma Affect Regulation: Guide for Education and Therapy) is a free program that is being offered to Illinois adoptive and guardianship families. The 7 FREEDOM steps are shared in a series of in-home sessions so youth and their families can understand and control trauma-related reactions to everyday life stresses.
